

Northern Adelaide Local Health Network Services

Service realignments have taken place at Modbury Hospital and Lyell McEwin Hospital to ensure residents living in north and north eastern Adelaide have access to healthcare services locally.

The services at Lyell McEwin Hospital and Modbury Hospital work together and complement each other to ensure north and north eastern residents receive best care, first time, every time.

Both hospitals operate Emergency Departments staffed by specialists 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The completion of the Lyell McEwin Hospital redevelopment marks the end of a 14-year transformation of the site into a major hospital for Adelaide's growing north and north eastern suburbs.

Lyell McEwin Hospital is the major hospital in the north and north east for emergency, complex and multi-day surgery. North and north eastern residents have access to a comprehensive 24/7 orthopaedic trauma surgery service and the installation of a second cardiac catheter laboratory will improve access to cardiology and interventional radiology services.

Modbury Hospital is the major 23-hour and same-day elective surgery hub and rehabilitation hub for the north and north eastern area.

The state-of-the-art rehabilitation centre at Modbury Hospital has 18 treatment rooms, a gym, hydrotherapy pool, a laboratory for analysing patient mobility, prosthesis services and a kitchen where clients can re-learn and practice everyday tasks.

Modbury Hospital also has an expanded one stop breast service, providing women with access to a breast surgeon, a radiologist and a breast care nurse in the same location.

Northern Adelaide Local Health Network's other health services include:

- > Primary health, sub-acute and transitional care services including GP Plus Health Care Centre Elizabeth and GP Plus Super Clinic Modbury with a satellite site at Gilles Plains
- > Watto Purrinna Aboriginal Primary Health Care Service sites Muna Paeindi, Kanggawodli, Maringa Turtpandi and Wonggangga Turtpandi
